U.S. COINS Colonial Coins

633	1787 Massachusetts Half Cent NGC VF Detail Obv Scratch. A nice coin w/ excellent color and detail for the grade. The scratch referred to is 7mm but very light and only clearly visible w/ magnification. Decent coin better than what one would expect given the NGC label description.	EST P	300-400	HWC-SE
634	1787 Nova Eborac Copper w/ Liberty Seated Right Breen-988 PCGS XF Details Environmental Damage. Attractive even medium brown, the env damage not too distracting. Breen notes that on the 988 variety, rev weakness is evident in the center and on the legs of the seated figure, but those areas are very well-defined on this specimen. (Redbook lists XF at $1,500.)	EST P	300-450	SE
635	1788 Massachusetts Cent w/ Period NGC VF Detail Cleaned. Nice coin w/ even medium brown color and decent detail. The "cleaned" designation is a bit of a mystery. Similar to the 1/2 Cent described above, this is a very nice example of a colonial coin, and much better-appearing than the NGC label would suggest.	EST P	350-500	HWC-LE

$2 1/2 Gold
741	1847-O net Fine perhaps better. Fairly well-worn typical of pre-1880 gold coins but still sound. The only issue is what appears to be a 3mm blob of solder (?) adhering to the rev above the eagle's head, with evidence of some attempt to remove it. Small gold coins were rarely requested by gold depositors of the day, and even at the scant mintage of 124,000, the 1847-O has the highest mintage of any of the four mints that produced quarter eagles that year. However, survival rates are very low for this issue and prices rise dramatically beyond grades of XF with Unc coins bringing close to five figures in recent auctions. ## MEDALS & TOKENS

Medals

793	1980 American Arts Commemorative Series Half-Ounce Gold Medallion for singer Marion Anderson. (.5 oz AGW) This series of ten gold bullion medallions were produced by the United States Mint from 1980 to 1984. They were sold to compete with the South African Krugerrand and other bullion gold coins. Iowa Representative Jim Leach suggested that the medallions depict notable American artists. President Jimmy Carter signed the bill containing the authorizing legislation into law on November 10, 1978, despite objections from Treasury officials. The medallion series also honors author Mark Twain, painter Grant Wood, and poet Robert Frost, among others. All were struck at the West Point Bullion Depository.	EST P	575-650	HWC-SE
